Babies are incredibly vulnerable, depending on adults for their daily needs, yet many are born into low-income families and communities of extreme poverty, and therefore lack proper nutrition, healthcare, and even clothing. The clothes that they do have are often hand-me-downs from older siblings that are worn out, too small or too big.

Thank goodness for social enterprises like Baby Teresa that are working to help these babies by donating a romper for every piece you purchase through their buy one give one program.

Baby Teresa's Innovative Buy-One-Give-One Organic Baby Rompers

Baby Teresa, named after Mother Teresa and her benevolent works, beautiful organic cotton baby clothes and accessories that are fairly traded. They've also created darling little organic cotton bibs, organic cotton blankets, as well as the cutest little hats to match the various rompers. Their aim: to donate clothing to at least one baby in every country on Earth through their one-for-one program. To date they have already checked off more than 20 countries on that list and plan to continue well beyond accomplishing their goal.

Baby Teresa's buy-one-give-one program is a promise to donate one baby romper for every romper purchased regularly. Additionally, they give a percentage of the sales from their accessories to help orphanages buy baby formula. Donations are directed through benevolent societies, orphanages, and ambassadors who deliver the gifts of formula to places like Uganda, Kenya, and Tanzania. Check out their donation sites as well as their guide for how to apply to be a distributor of the donations on their site for more information.

About these Entrepreneurs for a Change: Sammie Appleyard and Kirsty Dunphey

Sammie Appleyard and Kirsty Dunphey are the co-founders of Baby Teresa. Both women are Tasmanian locals and are social entrepreneurs to the core. Sammy, who has an Interior Design background, is in charge of the designing and retailing part of the business. Kirsty has been a businesswoman since she was 15, has a real estate background, writes business books, and serves as the Chief Donation Officer of Baby Teresa. Their desire to create healthier organic baby clothing and to give back to communities in need was inspired by the arrival of their own children.

This Wordpress Theme is Powered by Genesis Framework

I've built dozens of custom WordPress websites using both free and premium WordPress themes. If I were going to do it all over again, I would have built every single one on the Genesis Framework.

Genesis Framework is not only easily customizable through Genesis hooks, it's search engine optimized and doesn't break with each core WordPress update. Instead of burning up all my precious entrepreneurial time dealing with never-ending bug fixes, I can now focus on marketing and monetization.

Tara Kehaka from Oakland was about to launch a new online business promoting sustainable tourism and accommodation. She trying to determine what kind of website she needed to power her business, in addition to the best way to name it. I can't say enough about Lorna's expertise in this field. So many options and routes to take when you're starting out. I'm starting my new business and have questions about choosing a domain name – Do hyphenated names work? How do I choose what domains to purchase? What types of names are going to be successful for SEO? Does .co work as well as .com? She clearly has a lot of experience and (I'm sure) has saved me a lot of time, work, and worry. It's good to know there's someone there who cares about changing the world, being green, and has all that experience to boot.”
